Biosciences Toastmasters Club

The Biosciences Toastmasters Club provides a comfortable environment for scientists and other professionals to practice speaking and leaderships skills, an area of development often overlooked in specialized higher education. Our members—faculty, appointed professionals and staff, graduate and undergraduate students—support each other as we become the speakers and leaders we want to be.

http://biosciences.toastmastersclubs.org [1]

Meeting Location

Roy P. Drachman Hall, Room A116

Meetup Date / Time

Mondays, noon-1 p.m.

Contacts

Club officers

Source URL: https://uaatwork.arizona.edu/node/16479

Links: