Tell Us About Your Summer Camps

University Communications
February 2019

It is nearing that time when parents start planning summer activities for their kids. To make it easier for UA moms and dads to find the right programs for their sons and daughters, Lo Que Pasa publishes a roundup [1] of information on UA-run summer camps each spring. This year, the roundup will appear in the March 6 issue.

If your unit is offering a camp this summer, please let us know about it so that we can help spread the word.

We are looking for the following information:

- A detailed description of the camp and activities.
- Location information, including addresses for off-campus sites.
- Camper ages or grade levels.
- Dates and times the camp will run.
- Application deadlines.
- Cost, including any UA employee discounts.

Please email your information to mittank@arizona.edu [2], with “2019 Summer Camps” in the subject line, by Feb. 22.
