Arizona Mobile Update to Launch January 3

Date::
December 13, 2019

Arizona Mobile is launching the new native mobile version of the application on Friday, January 3, that focuses on helping students find their classes and University resources. It replaces the Modo Labs version previously offered.

This new version is optimized to take advantage of the device's capabilities, leading with map-based navigation and improved CatTran tracking. It maintains all of the campus services content that Arizona Mobile users are accustomed to, and makes it easier to navigate campus.

How to get the new app

- Automatic updates: Current users with automatic updates enabled will receive automatic updates beginning 8 a.m. on January 3 when their device is on WiFi and plugged in.
- Downloads: Current users can manually update when not on WiFi by going to the app store and downloading the new version onto their device.

Documentation will be linked in-app and at arizona.edu/apps [1] to help people find the services they're used to in the new navigation.

Information on Arizona Mobile is available at arizona.edu/apps [2].
