The University of Arizona is proud to be a co-sponsor of Falling Walls Lab being held in Phoenix on October 4, 2019.

This competition is open to all ? students, graduate students, researchers and faculty ? and your innovative idea, research or solution could win you cash prizes or even a trip to present your innovation in Berlin!

APPLICATION DEADLINE: SEPTEMBER 9, 2019

What is Falling Walls Lab?

The Falling Walls Lab is an international forum for the next generation of outstanding innovators and creative thinkers. Its aim is to promote exceptional ideas and to connect promising scientists and entrepreneurs from all fields on a global level. Participants get the opportunity to present their research work, business model, or initiative to peers, a high-caliber jury made up of experts from academia and business, and the general public ? in 3 minutes each.

Concept

Each year, academic institutions are invited to host their own Falling Walls Lab and to showcase the quality, diversity, and passion of their region's most innovative minds. The most intriguing presenters of the locally hosted Falling Walls Labs travel to the Lab Finale in Berlin, Germany on November 8. 100 Finalists present their work in front of a distinguished jury and showcase their solutions for today's pressing challenges. All finalists win a ticket to attend the Falling Walls Conference where they meet the world's movers and shakers of science, business, and policy-making. The three winners of the Lab Finale in Berlin are awarded the “Falling Walls Young Innovator of the Year” title, prize money, and get to pitch their idea once again on the grand stage of the Falling Walls Conference.

Who participates?

All innovators ? students, faculty, graduate students, post docs ? are invited to apply. And remember, this is not just startups or patentable inventions ? this is a call for visionary research and innovative ideas. The international network of Falling Walls Labs includes renowned academic institutions from more than 60 countries.
