Campus Safety and Preparedness Training Resources Available in EDGE Learning

To::
All faculty, staff, designated campus colleagues and students
Names and titles:
University of Arizona

As we continue to work together to build a safer community at the University of Arizona, we want to remind everyone of the preparedness training resources available in EDGE Learning[1]. We strongly encourage all staff, faculty, students and designated campus colleagues to complete this important training at their earliest convenience.

We offer two versions of the active shooter training to help you find the option that is the most comfortable for you and most relevant for your connection with the University.

The 12-minute video, hosted by UAPD, shares safety information on how to respond to an active threat and is based on the FBI advice "Run, Hide, Fight." There is also an option to read through the same information without any dramatizations.

Information and resources

- Access the preparedness training resources in EDGE Learning[1].
- More resources and safety information[2] can be found on the UAPD website.
- Additional information about campus safety and how to report threats[3] is available on the Threat Assessment and Management Team website.
- Employee Assistance Counseling (ComPsych) is available 24/7 to all University employees, their dependents and members of their households. Visit the Employee Assistance Counseling page[4] for information on how to connect with one-on-one counseling through ComPsych.
- Students in need of mental health support can contact Campus Health's Counseling & Psych Services by calling 520-621-3334, schedule online[5], or drop in at one of CAPS locations[6] during operating hours. Visit the CAPS website[7] to learn about available help.
