The Classified Staff Council presents its annual professional development and networking Crossroads Conference on Friday, June 1, at 8:00am at the JW Marriott Tucson Starr Pass Resort and Spa. The daylong event features a series of workshops and guest speakers.

Conference-goers can network with other University employees and learn about opportunities on campus ranging from health and wellness activities to work and life support tools. Additionally, participants can learn about resources on campus and UA employee discounts offered by various local businesses at vendor tables during the event.

After completing the required registration, participants can choose three presentation sessions to attend throughout the day. Register here <sup>[1]</sup>.

Presentation topics will include:

- "Becoming Culturally Competent"
- "Career Conversations"
- "Collaborative Conflict: Insights for Engaging Challenge Skillfully"
- "Hostile Work Environment and Workplace Violence"
- "How to Keep Electronic Data SAFE!"
- "Introduction to the UA's Flexible Work Arrangements (FWA) Guide"
- "Investment Fundamentals: The 5 Myths and Truths About Investing"
- Resistance-band exercise presented by Life & Work Connections
- Tech Launch Arizona
- University Career Architecture Program (UCAP)

The cost of the conference is $80 per attendee when paid by internal billing, or $85 per attendee when paid by credit card.
