Chair of the Faculty Wanda Howell and the Committee on Committees announces the 2013-2014 Faculty Survey.

Your participation on faculty committees helps to protect and improve the quality of this University and the rights of your faculty colleagues. The collective wisdom of our faculty is strong and respected. YOUR voice is needed as we face dramatic changes in teaching and research, information technology, and in the level and form of financial support.

University of Arizona administrators and faculty leaders have long adhered to the honorable tradition of Shared Governance. We believe that faculty participation and consultation are essential to maintaining an outstanding University with sound academic programs, promoting research that significantly advances the mission of the University, recruiting and retaining a distinguished faculty, cultivating institutional diversity, and preserving academic freedom.

Please take advantage of these opportunities for University-level service!
