

First Annual Tucson Palooza

Date::
April 7, 2017

The inaugural Tucson Palooza is a community-wide, family and pet-friendly event that will bring together agencies from across Tucson and Pima County to deliver useful information in a fun, informal setting. This year's theme, "What's it all about?" provides an opportunity to begin an open dialogue about what mental health means for everyone. May is Mental Health Awareness Month and the Tucson Palooza is looking forward to an exciting, high-energy resource fair designed to reduce the stigma associated with mental health.

May 20 from 9 a.m.-2 p.m.

Located at Himmel Park, 1000 N. Tucson Blvd.

Tucson Mayor Jonathan Rothschild is scheduled to read a Mental Health Awareness proclamation.

Admission is free.

Entertainment by local talent.

Activities for all ages including piñatas.

Giveaways, food and games throughout the day.
