University of Arizona Seeks New Applicant Tracking System

Date::
August 17, 2018

The University of Arizona is conducting a search for an applicant tracking system vendor. This project is currently in the RFP phase, with a selection expected to take place in the fall semester.

The goal of the project is to provide the UA with a comprehensive web-based applicant tracking system that will:

- Automate and streamline the recruitment process
- Improve candidate communication
- Maintain compliant and defensible audit trails
- Collect data required by law
- Promote the UA brand
- Utilize reporting and metrics

This initiative involves a wide array of internal and external stakeholders.

Once we have selected a vendor, we will announce the next steps and will keep our colleagues informed on how they might be affected.
